PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

SSR Fullstack Developer

May 2026 - Present

EVOLVERE · Corrientes, Argentina

I build end-to-end solutions where code and design are considered together from the start. I work both on projects where I own the whole path — design, development and deployment — and within multidisciplinary teams. I choose the stack per project, set up CI/CD pipelines, and integrate user experience from the prototyping stage rather than as a layer added at the end.

Founder & Full-Stack Developer

February 2026 - Present

GymSmartAccess · Corrientes, Argentina · Remote

I built GymSmartAccess from zero: a SaaS platform solving payments, access control and member management for independent gyms in Argentina. I owned the architecture, the interface design and the production deployment. It is live with paying customers, iterating on real feedback. It forced me to treat every feature as a product decision rather than just code.

Freelance Web Developer

March, 2025 - Present

Freelance - Corrientes, Argentina

I work with a wide range of clients to help turn their ideas into solid, functional web applications. From the early stages, I support them in shaping a realistic development plan—breaking down ideas into smaller, actionable steps and moving forward through modular iterations. Day to day, I'm building and maintaining full-stack solutions, from UI design and frontend development to backend APIs and deployment pipelines. I enjoy collaborating closely with clients, writing clean and maintainable code.
